THIRD LITTLE THEATER PLAY AN OUTSTANDING LOCAL SUCCESS

The laugh-packed Broadway comedy, "The Male Animal," was presented by a Little Theater cast on Monday and Tuesday nights of this week before enthusiastic audiences from Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Pass Christian and New Orleans.

The leading roles in the play were taken by Dr. and Mrs. Bedford Floyd and John Scaffie, who played the parts of a young college professor, Thomas Turner, Allen his wife, and her football-hero ex-boy friend, "Whirling Joe" Ferguson. The setting is the attractive living room of the Turner home on the day of the biggest football game in ten years. The excellent supporting cast includes Virginia Seal as Patricia, Ellen's younger sister; Robert Allen as Michael, her crusading boy-friend; Clay Blair as Wally, the campus hero; Joseph Kern, as the fiery trustee, Ed Keller; Dennis Tonkel as Dean Damon, aged head of the English Department; Mrs. C. D. Blair as Cleota, the bewildered and disapproving colored maid; Mrs. Anna Nachman as Mrs. Damon; Mrs. Anna Courtourier as Mrs. Keller; and Francis Wilson as the reporter, Much credit is due to the cast and the director Mrs. Carolyn Kiefer, who held rehearsals under unusually difficult circumstances and yet put on a performance so hilarious that the audience was kept in constant laughter.

The play marked the first entertainment given in the new playhouse on Carroll avenue, and the audience which crowded in were greatly impressed with the obvious work done on the building and stage. Special credit for the success of the mechanics of the play should be given to Mrs. J. C. Jones, Frank Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wenfurter, who were in charge of the stage-setting; Mrs. Anne Courtourier, who made the new curtain; Mrs. Catherine Wilson and Mrs. Ruth Ferrell, who provided the programs; Mrs. Mary Dodge, who was in charge of make-up; and C. D. Blair and Joseph Perez, who worked tirelessly on lighting and sound effects in the building which at first was not wired for electricity at all. It is hoped that the really remarkable success of this, the Little Theater's first three-act play, will presage a long and entertaining life for the organization.

MISSISSIPPI STATE CONVENTION KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS HELD AT BAY ST. LOUIS

The 42nd Annual Convention of the Knights of Columbus in Mississippi was held in Bay St. Louis on Sunday and Monday, May 26th and 27th, with Pere LeDuc Council No. 1522 of Bay St. Louis as the host Council.

The convention opened with the delegates attending 10 o'clock Mass at Our Lady of the Gulf Church. The business session began at 11 o'clock, with State Deputy John Hermann of Vicksburg, presiding.

Grand Knight Robert L. Camros of the local Council had planned to entertain the delegates with a shrimp boil at Sugar Field on Bayou La Croix on a boat trip, with a feast at Sugar Field, and then return home. The rain of Sunday evening somewhat marred the program. However Grand Knight Camros and the Local members, changed the arrangement and the shrimp boil was held at the Council home. Later in the afternoon the delegates were given a boat ride up the Bay of St. Louis.

On Sunday evening over one hundred members and their wives gathered at the Regu Hotel, where a banquet was held honoring the delegates, and Supreme Director James L. Donohoe of Huntington, West Virginia, who was a guest of the Convention. Past Grand Knight Arthur A. Seaside acted as toastmaster. The speakers were the Right Reverend Richard O. Gerow of Natchez, State Deputy John H. Hermann of Vicksburg, and Supreme Director James L. Donohoe, who expressed the felicitations of the Supreme Officers and Supreme Directors to the Mississippi State Convention. Mr. Donohoe brought out very forcibly the fact that we in the South and particularly on the Mississippi Coast are not cognizant of the opportunities that lie in our midst. That we are not telling other sections of the Nation what we have. That it is necessary for one to come down here and see what actually exists, and that once this is done we again have a booster, and an emissary of good will.

At the Monday Morning Session reports of Committees were made, the business of the convention concluded and officers for the ensuing year elected.

Mr. Linus A. Koenenn, Grand Knight of Gulfport Council was elected State Deputy. Mr. Koenenn is a former Hancock County boy, born and reared at Kiln where his parents now reside. He is a graduate of St. Stanislaus, and is the owner of the United Cash Groceries at Gulfport.

Mr. T. N. Knapp of Meridian was named State Secretary.

Mr. B. A. Saway of Jackson, State Treasurer.

Mr. J. F. Schwierjohn of Hattiesburg, State Advocate.

Mr. James Lillo of Leland, State Warden.

Most Rev. R. O. Gerow, Natchez, State Chaplain.

Mr. Chas. J. Rafferty, Vicksburg, 1st Alternate to the National Council.

Mr. W. L. Carr, Jr., Laurel, 2nd Alternate to the National Convention.

State Deputy Elmer Koenenn, in giving his election, thanked the delegates, and brought out very forcibly the need of Catholic action in these times, and we quote part of his address along these lines:

Today we stand on the threshold of a new and dangerous era. Two years ago His Excellency, our worthy Chaplain, in his report to the Convention assembled in Natchez, warned that a great change would be ushered in at the close of the war. How well his words of prophecy are being fulfilled! There is much unrest and dissatisfaction all over the world, and everywhere about us. The war has upset most of the accepted standards that existed prior thereto. The most disturbing element is the apparent and almost universal disapproval of God, his Holy Religion and the natural rights of man. Bolshevism is rampant all over Europe in parts of Asia, in some of the Pacific Islands, and right here at home we feel its reverberations. The Church needs our full support in combating this evil force, and it behooves us to realize the seriousness of the situation. At no time in our history has the phrase "Eternal Vigilance" been more significant than now.

Our Order enjoys an enviable position in American life, its members have always proven their loyalty to God and Country, their conduct in peace and war stands as a model for all men everywhere. In the war just ended, one out of every six men who wore the uniform were Catholics, of Catholics and members of the Knights of Columbus, and they have contributed proportionately well in the total achievements of the Victory, about which future historians will write freely of their heroic deeds of courage and valor. Many have made the supreme sacrifice in all parts of the world, their blood has crimsoned the soil of four continents, the Islands of the Pacific and the far flung corners of the Earth; so that you and I, our wives, our children, and their children's children may continue to enjoy the blessings of the four freedoms, and the American way of life. GOD FORTH THAT WE FORGET THEM NOW OR EVER. They gave the last full measure of devotion, which according to the words of our Blessed Savior Himself, is the greatest manifestation of love that man can show. The least we can do now is to assure them that they have not died in vain, and that we will continue the fight they have so nobly begun. Therefore, let us pray that God will give us the courage, strength and determination to protect these noble ideals of freedom and justice for all for posterity.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon from the home of his daughter Mrs. Bavo Woodcock with services at the First Baptist church, Pass Christian, the Rev. W. S. Allen officiating. Interment was in Allen cemetery.

May Meeting of Area Camp And Hospital Council

The May meeting of the Area Camp and Hospital Council met at the home of Mrs. Edgar Little in Handsboro. A. F. Parkinson, camp and hospital council Secretary, introduced the speaker, Miss Fay Bryan, Field Director American Red Cross, recently stationed at Gulfport Veterans Hospital.

Miss Bryan discussed the present need for volunteer service at the Gulfport hospital and told of the diversified work of the Red Cross in Veterans hospitals. Miss Bryan stated that a Patient Band is being organized by the recreation department of the Veterans' hospital and that the following musical instruments are needed to complete the band: one Tenor banjo; one Spanish or Hawaiian guitar; one violin and six harmonicas. The council voted to furnish the six harmonicas and asked that an appeal through the press be made for the other instruments and that any desiring to donate the needed instruments contact their local Red Cross office.

The council voted to supply 35 three cent stamps weekly to be used in the Receiving Ward at the hospital and to furnish refreshments each Wednesday night to patients in the Literary Club and Recreation room.

Miss Bryan stressed the importance of the continued cooperation of the Camp and Hospital Council of the American Red Cross, pointing out the fact that the patients now hospitalized at the Veterans Hospital are the same boys helped during the War and should not be deserted now.

S. E. Bailey, Field Director, Keesler Field, stated that he had many requests from boys having an afternoon off.

Mrs. Leo Seal, vice chairman presided over the business session which was followed by a luncheon served by Mrs. Little. June meeting is scheduled to be held in the Harrison County Chapter American Red Cross, Gulfport.

Attending from Bay St. Louis were Mrs. Seal, Mrs. J. Roland Weston and Mrs. J. B. Goldman.

The closing prayer was given by Miss F. Dixon.

COLMER ANNOUNCES

CONGRESSMAN WM. M. COLMER

Congressman Wm. M. Colmer today announces his candidacy for reelection, through the columns of this paper, to the office of Representative in the American Congress. In a brief statement he said:

TO THE SOVEREIGN WHITE VOTERS OF THE SIXTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF MISSISSIPPI:

Due to recent operation for a ruptured appendix and my duties here, I have not had an opportunity heretofore to make formal announcement of my candidacy for reelection. Under our system of government, with which I am in thorough accord, the Members of House chamber of Congress must be elected every two years. I welcome this opportunity for the people of my district to express their approval or disapproval of the record I have made as their Representative.

Our country has just emerged from the bitterest and most costly war in its history. Right now it is undergoing a serious crisis which the history of the world shows that all countries must face at the end of a major war. This glorious Republic of ours—the last on the face of the earth—is challenged by the foes of democracy both abroad and at home. The paramount issue before the country is whether we shall continue our system of free enterprise and the American way of life or shall succumb to one of the foreign "isms" or systems of government. Having been honored by the Congress in being chosen as Chairman of the Postwar Economic Policy Committee of the House, I have been for the past two years, and still am, engaged in the most serious effort to see that this does not happen and that the democratic system of this country will continue.

My record as your Representative in the Congress is reflected in the Congressional Record and is open to the inspection of all. I am proud of that record. While there may be some who do not agree with one or more of the positions I have taken on national and international affairs, I know in my own heart that I have honestly, patriotically and conscientiously acted solely for the welfare of the country.

As a veteran of World War I, and as the father of three sons who have seen service in this war—two of them with overseas service—I pledge you a continuation of that same honesty of purpose if you see fit to endorse my record in the July 2nd Primary.

—WM. M. COLMER.

Representative Colmer is now completing his seventh term. The Congress of the United States, unlike state and county governments, is run under the rule of seniority. If a member of either branch of that body possesses ability and fidelity he is given positions of increasing responsibility and leadership as his service lengthens. Bill Colmer has been an outstanding example of that rule. Having served on secondary committees with ability and attentiveness to duty, he was selected for the powerful Rules Committee, regarded by many as the most important committee in the House. The Committee is giving the green or red light to all important legislation. From this Committee have come many Leaders and Speakers of the House. It was as a member of this Committee that Bill Colmer was enabled to block the vicious FEPC bill, which is still tied up in the Rules Committee. Incidentally, not only Mississippi but the entire South has a stake in the reelection of this Mississippian to Congress.

For it is generally known in Washington that if he were defeated the Administration—which is favorable to the FEPC—would see that a northern Democrat who was favorable to this legislation was placed back home.

Edward Porter arrived home last week on a 30-day leave from the Navy. At the termination of his leave he will receive his honorable discharge from service.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Porter of this city and entered the service before his graduation from Bay High but received his diploma in duty. It is a pleasure to have "Ed" back home.

on the Committee; and as a result the tie which now exists in the Rules Committee would be broken and the bill would come out to the floor where it would undoubtedly pass.

Bill Colmer, in addition to his achievement as a member of the Rules Committee, was selected to serve on the National Forest Reservation Commission—a Commission made up of the Secretaries of War, Interior and Agriculture and two Members each of the Senate and House.

As pointed out in his announcement, Congressman Colmer also has the distinction of being selected as Chairman of the very important Postwar Economic Policy Committee which has done and is doing a splendid job in the reconversion of our wartime economy to a peacetime basis. This committee is composed of 10 Democrats and 8 Republicans, most of whom are outstanding Members of Congress. In presenting the resolution setting up this Committee to the House, Congressman Colmer said, among other things, that it would be his purpose to see that we did not have a repetition of what happened after the last war when our veterans came back to the great depression the country had ever known and many of them were forced to sell apples on the street corners for a living.

Our Representative, Bill Colmer, enjoys a position of prestige and influence in the Congress which it would take a new man ten years or more to achieve. But in spite of that position he has not neglected his district. He has been instrumental in bringing more Federal projects to Mississippi than possibly any other Representative. He has achieved a state-wide reputation for promptness in attending to the affairs of his constituents in Washington and has satisfactorily handled thousands of such requests each year during his tenure of office. A letter to Bill Colmer always brings a prompt and courteous reply.

During his legislative career, Congressman Colmer has stressed, among other things, a strong foreign policy, a prepared nation, all necessary legislation and appropriations for the conduct of the war; a full and generous program for those who fought the nation's battles; adequate and sound agricultural legislation; a Federal aid program for our schools without Federal control; legislation for the reimbursement of counties sustaining loss by the purchase of large tracts of land by the Federal Government; an ever-increasing extension of the benefits of rural electrification; an enlarged social security program; and increased assistance to the needy aged. During the past two years he has laid heavy emphasis as Chairman of the Postwar Committee upon the necessity for an orderly reconversion of our wartime economy to a peacetime basis, with special emphasis on jobs for all returning veterans. On the other hand, he has vigorously opposed legislation aimed at the destruction of our democratic form of government and the establishment of a socialistic or communistic system, such as the FEPC; the repeal of the poll tax; the making of an international Santa Claus out of Uncle Sam; and efforts by some short-sighted persons to bring about ruinous inflation to the country.

On 30-Day Leave

Edward Porter arrived home last week on a 30-day leave from the Navy. At the termination of his leave he will receive his honorable discharge from service.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Porter of this city and entered the service before his graduation from Bay High but received his diploma in duty. It is a pleasure to have "Ed" back home.

Mr. Ortte Appears Before Committee in Support Of Bill Introduced By Congressman Colmer

Supervisor Eo. P. Ortte returned last week from Washington, where he appeared as a witness before the Rivers and Harbors Committee, in support of a bill introduced by Congressman Wm. M. Colmer asking that the United States Government rehabilitate the Mississippi and Louisiana oyster reefs that were destroyed by the fresh waters of the Mississippi River from the Bonnet Carré Spillway. The total amount asked in this bill to be appropriated by the Government is $3,500,000.

Mr. Ortte who was high in his praise of the work that Mr. Colmer is doing in behalf of the oyster industry of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, was representing the Mississippi Oyster Commission, at whose instance he attended as a witness.

Others in attendance were Mr. Reece Bickerstaff, member of the Mississippi Legislature from Harrison County, and attorney for the Seafood Commission Mr. Oswald Chatham, President of the Gulf Coast Seafood Union and member of the Sea Food Commission, Mr. Chester Delacruz, Mayor of Biloxi, who represented the oyster industry, Max Fountain, of the Fisherman's Union, Mr. W. F. Elmer, Secretary of the Sea Food Commission and Mr. James McConnell, Engineer of the Louisiana Conservation Department.

We are in hearty accord with this legislation and as pointed out by Mr. Ortte, as long as the waters of the Mississippi were allowed to flow from the mouth of the river the Mississippi oyster reefs sustained no loss. That the action of the United States Engineers in establishing the spillway at its present location and allowing the waters to flow through Lake Pontchartrain has totally destroyed the Mississippi Oyster Reefs, with the destruction of these reefs one of the largest industries in the State of Mississippi has been destroyed. Certainly some effort should be made to cure this trouble.

Mr. Ortte stated that he suggested to the Committee that spillways could probably be opened on the west side of the river, and that the flood waters could be distributed so that no particular section would be hurt.

In the bill before Congress the appropriation is for the rebuilding of the reef and not for payment to any one for the losses sustained.

To Conduct Blood Bank

Dr. J. W. Davenport of the Baptist Hospital, New Orleans, will conduct a Blood Bank for whole blood here on June 30 at Bay High school building. This will be sponsored by the local council Knights of Columbus.

The people of Bay St. Louis and the county have always responded so generously to the call for blood for blood banks and very recently it was necessary for blood to be given to one of our own and many went from here to New Orleans for the purpose of giving blood. This is sufficient evidence of the need of blood in cases where it is necessary and to warrant a big response. The revenue in blood from this bank will be stored at the Baptist Hospital for the use of the people in Bay St. Louis and Hancock County.

For registration call Mrs. George R. Rea, phone 246 or Dr. M. J. Wolfe, phone 153-R. Be sure to register.

RECRUITING TEACHERS

THE most important problem with which school board members and educational administrators are faced at the present time is that of teacher recruitment. These officials can not solve this problem working alone. Because of the implications of teacher shortage in connection with our good way of life, it behooves all thinking citizens to become increasingly and immediately interested and active in this matter. The problem is big enough and serious enough to be challenging.

As a beginning, school board members and school administrators can at least put forth every effort to guarantee sound administrative policies and provide the best possible physical environment and other working conditions for the teachers now in service. In the meantime, these same officials can well afford to stand and work aggressively for salaries commensurate with the type and quality of services demanded of teachers without apologizing to any person or persons anywhere at any time.

Teachers now in service, on both the public school and college levels, may contribute their bit by something of a rededication of themselves to the profession, and by doing a little honest salesmanship through precept and example. The high schools of Mississippi are graduating large classes composed of many splendid teaching prospects and our college campuses are literally covered with some of Mississippi's choicest young men and women. Why should not the teaching profession attract a reasonable percentage of these "top-flight" young Americans? Business, industry and the other professions have a definite stake in education and should share in the responsibility of attracting desirable persons into the teaching field. Housewives, who are in position to know the value of well-balanced, well-trained and devoted teachers, may perchance make some valuable contributions to the teacher recruitment campaign by going the second mile in the matter of helping new teachers become happily adjusted to the life of the community in which they serve.

The teaching profession demands and deserves men and women of character, culture, conviction and courage. We need not expect to plan and execute the vigorous educational program demanded by present-day society without the services of such persons.

There is no doubt as to the teacher shortage that now exists. For obvious reasons, which we hope will improve rapidly, Mississippi is certainly no better off along this line than her sister states.

Speaking in general terms, there are two major reasons why so many good teachers are leaving the profession: first, a lack of economic security and second, a plain lack of security as a citizen. The first reason requires no elaboration. A check on the reasons assigned by those who have left teaching for other lines of employment furnishes sufficient evidence. Teachers as a professional group have often felt that they have not had the "citizenship security" that is enjoyed by other professional, business and industrial groups.

In many cases teachers have felt that they are looked upon as outsiders who do not possess the practical qualities of citizenship that qualify them for active participation in the civic, social, economic and political life of their respective communities. In some cases this feeling has come about as a result of reprisals from influential politicians or wealthy, influential citizens. The practice of the profession of teaching should be no bar to the privileges of citizenship. Teachers have the right and responsibility for participating actively in community affairs, even in the political life in the community.

If you agree with the above diagnosis you will in the main agree with the prescribed treatment. As to economic insecurity, the responsibility rests largely on the shoulders of those who control the expenditures of public monies, and needless to say teachers are not recognized as members of this group. Teachers too have a responsibility in the fact that they have done none too good a job in selling the importance of the profession to the public as a whole and to those who control the money in particular.

Regarding apparent insecurity as citizens we feel that teachers themselves have been partially responsible for this condition by their expressed and implied lack of appreciation of the importance of the position that they should occupy in community life.

Why should not business leaders apply the same principles to education as they apply to business and give expression to the fact that trained professional services deserve a fair degree of reward and that these professional servants of American democracy can render far more efficient services if they enjoy the same degree of economic security as other professions offer?

Those who control the financial side of our educational program together with the citizens as a whole can, to a large degree, remedy the economic situation by putting the Golden Rule in action.

With the teaching profession as it is and with improved conditions in sight, we can at least be honest agents in the field of teacher recruitment by reminding ourselves and others of the following facts without further discussion:

1. Teachers form the largest professional group in this country—we have approximately one million teachers in the United States.

In the light of the figures at hand, there are approximately 71,000 dentists, 154,000 physicians, 160,000 lawyers and 260,000 nurses.

2. Teachers as a whole belong to an educated group—education is one the march and the services of teachers will always be needed.

3. Teachers in the main have an altruistic philosophy of life and are engaged in a business that is richly worthwhile.

4. The teachers of our nation have direct contact with more than thirty million youngsters—a contact coveted by many people of other professions.

5. Teachers have influence as individual leaders in their respective communities.

6. Teachers are privileged to work on a high professional plane through their local, state and national education associations, and are to a great degree free from the driving power under which many people are called upon to work.

Potentially, teachers are a powerful force but they have not approximated their potentialities.

With unlimited opportunities for service, personal and professional growth, together with pleasant associations and a cheerful working environment, we feel that the advantages of teaching far outweigh the disadvantages. We say to those who are qualified and who feel the urge to teach, "Come in, there is much to be done, and there are better days ahead for real teachers—and let us be abidingly conscious that those whom we serve through our great profession are richly entitled to our honest, earnest efforts."—Mississippi Educational Advance, May, 1946.

A. & G. THEATRE SUNDAY - MONDAY "THE SPIRAL STAIRCASE"

Mystical Romance With
Dorothy McGuire, George Brent, Ethel Barrymore

An ingenious plot and the work of a superb cast lend distinction to "The Spiral Staircase" RKO Radio's newest screen mystery, with Dorothy McGuire, George Brent and Ethel Barrymore in the stellar roles.

Based on Ethel Lina White's novel, "Some Must Watch," the gripping film deals with the experiences of the heroine, threatened by a baffling killer who has terrorized a small Vermont village. The killer specializes in murdering young women and the girl seems marked as a victim.

Miss McGuire portrays a housemaid companion in an old mansion dominated by crochety old Mrs. Warren (Ethel Barrymore). Two sons, a professor of biology (George Brent) and a wayward idler (Gordon Oliver) also live there, as well as a cook, a handy man, a nurse and the professor's secretary. Helen's only real friend is Dr. Parry, (Kent Smith) a young physician in love with her and worried for her safety.

Various mysterious happenings around the big house convince him that it is too dangerous for Helen to stay in the neighborhood any longer. He plans to send her to Boston, but before he can complete arrangements he is called away on a case. When the biologist's secretary is murdered, Helen finds herself alone with two Warren men, one who knows the murderer. She looks up the one she suspects only to discover that she has guessed wrong and is at the mercy of the slayer.

In the featured cast Elsa Lanchester is the cook and Sara Allgood is the nurse. Robert Slodmak, noted for his handling of thrillers, directed the Dore Schary production; Mel Dinelli's screenplay was based on "Some Must Watch"

ORTTE THEATRE SUNDAY-MONDAY "ADVENTURE"

This is the Picture You Have Been Waiting For—
Clark Gable and Greer
Garson

That eagerly-awaited event, the return of Clark Gable to the screen after three and a half years in the Air Corps, takes place Sunday and Monday at the Ortte Theatre in "Adventure," in which the popular Gable is seen for the first time with Greer Garson, and it can be immediately stated that the picture is a triumph for all concerned with its making.

Whether they are scrapping, romancing, or merely wisecracking, the combination of Gable and Miss Garson is at all times exciting and electric, and it is obvious that here M-G-M has found a team that the movie-going public will want to see again and again.

Gable fits perfectly into his role of the rough, carefree Merchant Marine bo'sun with a love in every port until he meets Miss Garson, enacting a San Francisco librarian and a model of deportment. At first repulsed by the bo'sun's down-to-earth exterior, she soon falls victim to his charms and before she quite realizes what is happening, has married him. She is disillusioned any dreams of domestic bliss, however when she learns that Gable does not intend to give up his sea-roving life. In an unexpected climax, Miss Garson finds a way of winning her husband back for good, but we won't give the surprise away.

The stars are given splendid support in "Adventure" by such acting veterans as Joan Blondell, Thomas Mitchell, Tom Tully and John Qualen. Miss Blondell, in her first role since "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" offers a warm and humorously sympathetic portrayal as Miss Garson's roommate, while Mitchell is splendid as Gable's hard-drinking pal who fears that he has "lost his soul." That fiery Latin, Lina Romay, is also present in her first dramatic role and she does a meritorious job as a girl who tries to catch Gable on the rebound.

Victor Fleming, of "Gone With the Wind" fame, directed "Adventure" of improvement, repair or construction of the road or roads and bridges to be considered. That said request report and estimate shall not in any manner obligate the Board to do said work or order said work done.

SECOND: That after receipt and consideration of said report from said engineer by the Board, the Board may order the particular work to be done or may amend or reject the plans and specifications or may reject said proposal.

THIRD: That in the repair or construction of said roads or bridges, the Board may do so by contract after proper advertising and bidding as required by law or the Board may employ labor and purchase material to do the work.

FOURTH: That because of the recent excessive rains and great damage done to the roads and bridges of the County, it is impossible to perfect all roads and bridges from the limited amount in this particular fund. Hence, the Board may available for each road, bridge or project shall be kept within control and considered each month in the light of the work done and work to be done, the engineers report as to cash on hand for all purposes so that a greater amount shall not be expended on that particular project than its importance requires.

FIFTH: The Board retains the right, power and authority to be exercised at each meeting of the Board to order that work cease on any road or bridge, and the Board shall

Leo G. Ford Named Chairman U. S. Savings Bond Committee

Upon the recommendation of A. G. Favre, former chairman of the Hancock County War Finance Committee for Hancock County, and other business men of the County, appointment of Leo G. Ford, Postmaster of the City of Bay St. Louis, as Chairman of the Hancock County U. S. Savings Bond Committee was announced by Rex I. Brown, State chairman.

As soon as the other members of the committee are selected, plans will be affected for carrying on the work. The job of the committee will be to encourage continued purchases of savings bonds by individuals and non-bank investors. Such purchases by the groups will maintain widespread ownership of the public debt and siphon a great deal of excess purchasing power into savings; thus, holding the line against pressure on prices. Objectives of the program are: (1) a systematic individual savings plan; (2) a Schools-at-work program teaching children money management and thrift habits.

Mr. Brown points out that the 85,000,000 Americans who bought $186,000,000 in bonds from May, 1941, through December, 1945, is a record that will long stand. The soundness of our national economy will depend to a degree on how well the program of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division is carried through in the purchase of government bonds and stamps in peace time.

have the right to add to any project and to create new projects as the public interest may require.

SIXTH: The engineer employed for this work shall be paid from the Common or General Funds of Hancock County.

SEVENTH: The funds appropriated by said House Bill Number 36 and paid into the treasury of Hancock County shall not be expended for machinery or other equipment or tools.

EIGHTH: Any or all of the rules hereinabove provided for may be amended or repealed by this Board, and any rule herein adopted in conflict with said House Bill Number 36 shall be considered as repealed and of no effect.

Be It Ordered by the Board that the action of Chas. B. Murphy, President of this Board in approving the bond of H. W. Johnston, in the sum of $10,400.00, for the faithful performance of his contract with Hancock County for the repair of the courthouse, be and the same is hereby approved.

Whereas, there is sufficient motion in the Health & Sick Fund of Hancock County to allow the increase in the budget of the Health Department of Hancock County in the sum of $300.00, to allow the County Health Officer to increase the salary of the Sanitation Engineer,

Be It, Therefore, Ordered by the Board that the said budget of the Health Department be and the same is hereby increased in the sum of $300.00.

Whereas, bid of Cue & Favre Inc., was submitted to this Board for furnishing to Hancock County One Caterpillar Patrol, No. 10, Model 1940, at and for the sum of $2500.00, and

Whereas, this Board had laid over the consideration of said bid, and having fully considered the same and finding that said bid was the lowest and best bid submitted to this Board.

Be It, Therefore, Ordered that the bid of Cue & Favre, Inc., for furnishing to Hancock County One Caterpillar Patrol, No. 10, Model 1940, at and for the sum of $2500.00, be and the same is hereby accepted.

Be It Further Ordered that the Clerk of this Board shall issue warrant out of the Road & Bridge Fund of said County, payable to said Cue & Favre, Inc., in the sum of $2500.00.

Be It Ordered by the Board that the Board adjourn until the Board in Course.

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like aches and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. LONG DISTANCE CALLS ARE STILL INCREASING

The volume of Long Distance calls keeps right on growing. Between towns and cities only a few miles apart, folks are making one-fifth more calls to-day than during the peak of the war-time load.

As a result of this postwar rush of short-haul calls there is likely to be some delays on calls to nearby points until the necessary materials can be obtained and additional circuits provided to relieve congestion.

In the meantime, everything possible is being done to handle all calls promptly.

Singing and dancing brought the farewell evening to a close but it is the sincere wish of each young lady that they meet now and then to recall these happy days which are now memories.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lang announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Iris Mae, to Mr. Edward (Pete) Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Richardson. The wedding will take place Saturday, June 15 at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Both families are from Bay St. Louis.

—Mesdames Belle Joyner, Eugene Davis and Miss Loraine Davis attended the graduation exercises at Loyola University. Among those to receive their diplomas and degrees, was Mr. and Mrs. Davis' son-in-law, Dr. Wm. B. Matthews, Doctor of Dental Surgery. Dr. Matthews will be affiliated with his father, Dr. Ben B. Matthews of New Orleans.

—Mrs. E. Ranson entertained the members of the S. J. A. Senior class on Friday night. A lovely cake as the centerpiece was in the shape of a huge book. The class colors were carried out with a white icing, blue trimmings and in blue icing, the name of each of the nineteen graduates was written. This delicious cake with ice cream and other sweets made the party complete. Mrs. Ranson had accompanied the young ladies on a number of parties and chose this delightful way of bidding her "girls" Adieu.

Enlists In Army

Henry J. Prevou, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Prevou of Bay St. Louis, and Alvin Alphonse Cameron, son of Mr. Renald Cameron of Kiln, were recently accepted for enlistment in the Regular Army, according to an announcement from Captain Edward A. McCann, Commander of the Gulfport Recruiting Station. After receiving the initial processing they were sent to the induction center at Camp Shelby for final assignment.

Private Prevou, former student of St. Stanislaus enlisted for an eighteen month period. Prior to joining the Army he was employed as a mechanic in Bay St. Louis.

T/4 Cameron, veteran of four years previous service, graduated from the Kiln High School in 1940 and was later employed in Gulfport by a construction company. Prior to being discharged in January 1946, T/4 Cameron was assigned to the 3262nd Signal Service Company, 18th Airborne. He is authorized to wear the American Defense Service Medal, World War II Victory Medal and the Good Conduct Medal. After signing up for three years he stated he did so because of the many opportunities offered by the Army that cannot be found in civilian life at this time.

The group, known as the 24 Hour Club, had an interview with President Truman at the White House and had pictures and news reels taken with him. They were also guests of honor at banquets in New York and Washington given by Mr. Spyros Skouras, president 20th Century Fox and chairman of the Red Cross and War activities for the Motion Picture activities.

—On Thursday night of last week Master Martin Noto was host to his classmates the 8th grade graduates and his teachers, who were Misses Dorothy Skellie, Mary Kittrell, Alma Parker of Logtown, sponsor of the 8th grade, Mary Beth Stoner and Mrs. Norton Haas. Many parents of these young folks dropped in for a short stay, as did a number of friends.

Other guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Wolfe, Miss Jane Wolfe, Mr. Bruce Mollere, Mr. and Mrs. James Branas of Bakersfield California, Miss Marie Pia, Miss Freida Schenck, Martin's grandmother and Dianne and H. Torch Bearers Selected

A traditional custom of Gulf Park College is the selecting of the Torch Bearers for the seniors each year. The honor, for it is considered an honor indeed, of serving as a Torch Bearer is conferred upon the juniors and the seniors entertain their torch bearers and present them with a gift.

On Tuesday evening Misses Mary Frances Scalfide and Carol Stevenson entertained their torch bearers at a dinner at Hotel Reed—Miss Cynthia Lundy, Biloxi and Miss Ruth Gray, Bay St. Louis and presented each with a gift. Miss Rosemary Rollins was also a guest. Later they enjoyed a picture show.

As has been the practice of Gulf Park boarding students the students designated as the Coast Club were honored at a banquet given at Hotel Markham in the Crystal Room one evening last week. Each of the coast students was presented with a corsage. A short program of vocal and instrumental music and dancing was the entertainment feature.

Attending were Misses Carol Stevenson, Mary Frances Scalfide, Ruth Gray and Rosemary Rollins, Bay St. Louis and Miss Betty Simpson, Pass Christian.
